Press Release

Pakistan underscores rule of justice for environmental sustainability

Pakistan has called for “enhancement of the rule of justice, law and governance for environmental sustainability to address the challenges of 21st century”.

This was stated by Maulvi Anwar-ul-Haq, Attorney General for Pakistan while addressing the participants of the two-day First Preparatory Meeting for the UNEP World Congress on Justice, Governance and Law for Environmental Sustainability held in the Malaysian capital.

The Attorney General also explained the environmental laws in force in Pakistan and the existing structure of the government agencies, tribunals and courts of magistrates constituted thereunder and their fruitful working in the matter of enforcement of prescribed environmental standards.

The Organizers and participants expressed appreciation for the suggestions given by Maulvi Anwar-ul-Haq for making the international environmental governance more effective.
